

ALCATEL-LUCENT ENTERPRISE COOKIE POLICY

Cookies are small computer files that remember what you enter when you visit a website. They help websites remember information about your visit, like your country, language and other settings. They can help make your next visit easier – without cookies, using many websites would be frustrating.

At Alcatel-Lucent Enterprise, we use cookies to remember contact information that you might have filled in previously, to count how many likes and shares our pages have had, and to help you when you talk to our advisors online. We also use them to provide anonymous information about the users that visit our site. Please note that cookies can't harm your computer.

OPTING OUT AND DISABLING COOKIES

Most browsers have cookies enabled by default. However if you don't want to enable cookies, you'll still be able to browse the site. To disable specific cookies, you can 'opt out' using the links below. To disable all cookies on your browser, please go to aboutcookies.org. For more information on how we protect your privacy and other information, please read our privacy policy.

COOKIES USED ON ALCATEL-LUCENT ENTERPRISE WEBSITES

The cookies on this site are either set by us or by third party partners and fall into the following categories:

a. Session Management

These cookies are used to make sure you can move freely from one page to another. Normally these cookies only last while your browser is open and are deleted when it is closed. But some, like our cookie policy acceptance cookie, need remain for longer than the duration of your session, so we don't have to ask for your agreement every time you visit the site.
